

1. Are you being subtly led away from God's eternal plan by things that seem good on the surface, and how can you grow in discernment to recognize and reject these distractions?

2. Is your life centered more on man's ways or God's ways, and what shifts need to happen for you to fully align with the Father's plan?

3. What parts of your life are resisting the 'death to self' that leads to true resurrection life, and how is God calling you to surrender so His life can take deeper root in you?
